Idhult

In the early 90's the Idhult crag was discovered by the Linköping climbers and they created several traditional routes. Later on Ingmar Pettersson from Västervik developed new popular sport climbing routes.

Getting there

From Västervik follow the E22 north towards Gamleby and then turn towards Överum. In Överum you exit towards Karlshult and drive towards Dalhem. Continue towards Björkfors past the exit towards Hycklinge. Drive along the Björken lake. The crag is located by a gravel road after about 100 m, by the Idhult sign. Don't drive on the gravel road, continue instead on the asphalt road across the brook for about 150 m.

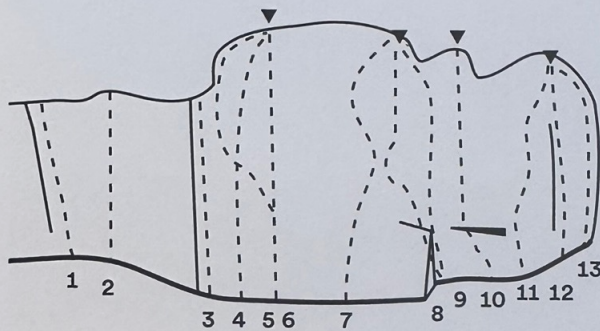

Park to the right by a small driveway. Walk along the field and the edge of the pond for 300, then take the path to the left which leads to the crag. It takes 50 min to get there from Västervik.
